1871	20 May	Colchester, ESS	assaulted in his shop		The Essex Standard, 26 May 1871, 3
1871	25 May	Colchester, ESS	in magistrates court as prosecutor	George Alger, alias Kite, was charged with violently assaulting John Macklin, a second-hand clothes dealer, living in Magdalen Street, on Saturday night, the 20th inst. - Prosecutor stated that on the evening in question he was getting his tea, when prisoner came into the shop and offered a dress for sale. Prisoner walked into the room where prosecutor was, and without any ceremony, drank part of his cup of tea. Prosecutor told him to go out, upon which he struck him a violent blow between the eyes with his fist. He soon afterwards left, and prosecutor obtained a warrant for his apprehension. - Ellen Macklin, daughter of prosecutor, gave corroborative evidence, and added that her father told his wife not to have anything to do with the dress, as it might be stolen property. - Inspector Barton stated that on apprehending prisoner he said prosecutor's son struck him, and prosecutor called him a thief several times. - Prisoner was sentenced to 14 days' hard labour. - Head-constable Downes stated that when prisoner was released he should apply for a summons againt him for hawking without a license.	The Essex Standard, 26 May 1871, 3

MACKLIN, --

1864	4 December	Brook Street, near Brentwood, ESS	discovered a dead body		The Essex Standard, 9 December 1864, 2
1864	6 December	Brentwood, ESS	at a coroner's inquest	On Sunday morning the body of a newly-born infant was discovered in a pond situate in Nag's Head Lane, Brook Street, near Brentwood. The body was enveloped in linen, and enclosed in a bag, in which were found some stones. From general appearance it is supposed to have been in the water for some days. - An inquest was held on Tuesday, before C. C. LEWIS, Esq., Coroner, when two men, named Macklin and Wilson, who attend fairs with a cart, stated that they had gone to the pond for a pail of water, when they observed a bundle, and on getting it out found it to contain the body of a child. Information of the discovery was at once given to the parish constable and also to the police.	The Essex Standard, 9 December 1864, 2
