NORTH, Owen alias SMITH

1890	18 August	Windsor, BRK	married	Holy Trinity, the garrison church of Windsor, was on Monday the scene of a very interesting wedding, the contracting parties, who were married by licence, being Owen North, of Reading, and Ellen Lee, of Brighton, both gipsies. The Rev. Arthur Robins, Chaplain to the Queen and the Prince of Wales, officiated, and the ceremonial attracted	The Abingdon Herald, 23 August 1890, 3 a number of spectators. The bride's costume was a terra-cotta gown, tied with a broad satin sash, and she wore a wreath of orange blossom and a white tullo veil, and carried a handsome bouqet [sic]. The bridesmaids' costumes were similar to that of the bride, with the exception of the head-dresses, which consisted of large straw hats, trimmed with white ostrich feathers and ribands. The bridal party went to church in a close carriage, the company following in other vehicles. The wedding breakfast was given at the Queen's Head Inn.
