1818	22 May	Reading, BRK	in gaol
1818	23 May	Reading, BRK	in magistrates court	Friday the following gang of gipsies were committed for further examination, by the Rev. Edward Barry, D.D. on suspicion of having committed a burglary in the house of James Lovegrove, at Sulhampstead Abbots, viz. Thomas Ayres, Thos. Mills, Samuel Ayres, Elizabeth Ayres, Athalia Mills, Ann Mills, and Mary Ayres. This day the gang of gipsies, underwent an examination before the bench of Magistrates, when Thomas Ayres and Thomas Mills, were fully committed for trial at the assizes, for breaking open the house of James Lovegrove, at Sulhampstead Abbots, and stealing twenty-one pounds in silver, five pounds in copper, two pairs of new shoes, and various articles of wearing apparel. At ten o'clock on Thursday night, Lovegrove went to bed, and about eleven four robbers broke in, hearing a noise he jumped out of bed, and found the prisoner Ayres, in his room. Ayres immediately knocked him down and beat him severely, and standing over him, swore that he would murder him if he made a noise. While in this situation, Mills and two of the name of Hughes, were employed in plundering the house, in which they remained about three quarters of an hour. The villains left behind the stick with which they beat Lovegrove, and which was identified, as in the possession of Ayres the same morning, it also appeared that the gipsies had been overheard planning this robbery at a neighbouring revel. - The other five of the gang were committed as vagrants. - Warrants are issued against the two Hughes's, who were seen at Sidmanton yesterday.	The Reading Mercury, Oxford Gazette, General Advertiser of Berks, Bucks, Hants, Oxon, Surry [sic], Sussex & Wilts, 25 May 1818, 3

1864	June			All visitors to Rosherville Gardens who have ever had their fortunes told in the sylvan retirement of that popular resort will regret to hear of the decease of the old occupant of the Gypsy tent. Since the opening of the Gardens she had filled her usual post, but her health was visibly affected and, a few days ago, she expired in about the fiftieth year of her age. Her funeral was followed by a large number of the Gypsy tribe, who came from all parts of Kent and Surrey to attend the ceremony. The deceased was a genuine member of the roving fraternity, and thoroughly believed in the art she professed. Her name was Avis Lee and for six-and-twenty years she had settled at Rosherville as an avowed fortune-teller... She had two sons serving at Delhi at the time of the late Indian Mutiny, and they were among the 17 rescued by the Highlanders, under Lord Clyde, when the rest of the companions had been massacred. . . With the red handkerchief gracefully twisted round her head, from which a mass of black corkscrew curls flowed down in picturesque profusion, she often supplied artists with a study. Her successor is a daughter who has not yet reached her twentieth year.	The Era , date not known; quoted in Anne Marie Ford, 'The Rosherville Gipsy', at < http://gypsygenealogy.com/showarticle.php?article_id=141 >
