1888	17 July	Abingdon, BRK	charge heard in magistrates court but did not appear	Henry Ayers , a traveller hailing from Birmingham, was summoned for causing an obstruction in Bridge-street, on the 26th ult. - Defendant did not appear, and service of summons at Oxford was proved by Superintendent Robotham, who said defendant told him he could not be present, as he had to attend a large fête [sic] some miles away. He, however, promised to remit the amount ordered by the Bench. - Sergeant Turner deposed that on June 26th he saw six vans belonging to defendant standing on the bridge from 11.30 until two o'clock. He saw defendant in the Market-place, and asked him to remove them, whereupon defendant, who was the worse for drink, said he should go when and where he liked. - Superintendent Robotham remarked that it was the day after June fair, at which the gypsies gave a great deal of trouble. Defendant had been eight times previously convicted, and the last conviction was for a similar offence at Oxford recently. - Fined £1, and 14s. costs.	The Abingdon Herald , 21 July 1888, 5
