BARNEY, Sophia

1878	18 April	Southampton, HAM	charged with fraud		The Hampshire Advertiser County Newspaper , 24 April 1878, 3
1878	20 April	Southampton, HAM	in magistrates court	Sophia and Emma Barney, gipsies, were charged with obtaining a shilling by means of false pretences, from Mr. Bettsworth, grocer, of Canal-walk, on Thursday afternoon. - Mr. Kilby appeared for the prisoners. - An assistant named Richard Friend stated that the young person, Emma, came into the shop and asked if he could take a shilling's worth of coppers. He gave her the shilling, and placed the coppers in the drawer, and she then said, "If I give you another shilling you will have to give me a two-shilling piece." He could not quite see it at first, but gave her the two-shilling piece, and after she had gone he found she had cheated him out of a shilling. When the witness was questioned as to what money he had in the till it appeared that he had a shilling more after the prisoners had gone than when they came. - The magistrates could not make this out, and so the prisoners were discharged, but advised to leave the town at once.	The Hampshire Advertiser County Newspaper , 24 April 1878, 3

1891	21 January	Northwood, IOW, HAM	claimed to have been raped		The Portsmouth Evening News , 12 March 1891, 2
1891	11 March	?Winchester, HAM	at the Assizes	Samson Light, 40, dealer, was indicted for criminally assaulting Kate Barney, near Cowes, on January 21st. - Mr. Barnes prosecuted, and prisoner was defended by Mr. Bullen, with whom was Mr. Garland. Both prisoner and prosecutor belonged to a party of gipsies who on the day named were encamped at Northwood. The girl left the camp to go to Cowes to sell some clothes' pegs and she alleged that the prisoner followed her into a copse called "the wilderness" where he pushed her down and committed the offence with which he was charged. Prosecutrix appeared to be a person of the lowest type of intelligence and seemed not to understand many of the questions put to her by learned counsel. She said she was seventeen years of age and lived with a man named George Lee as his wife since when she could not remember. She told Lee of what had occurred when she returned crying to the camp. - Cross-examined by Mr. Bullen, she admitted that the story was "got up" by the Lees, but immediately afterwards told the judge that her evidence was perfectly true. The man named Lee was brought up from Kingston Prison to give evidence. He was twenty years old, and she had lived with him as his wife rather more than twelve months. He was in custody for stealing some ferrets, and would be released from prison next morning. He stated that the girl returned to the camp crying, and his evidence was corroborated by his father, an elderly man, named Sylvester Lee, who preferred to be styled a "traveller" rather than be called a gipsy. - The judge acquitted the prisoner.	The Portsmouth Evening News , 12 March 1891, 2
