1890	12 November	Maiden Bradley, WIL	charged with attempted breaking and entering		The Western Gazette , 21 November 1890, 7
1890	14 November	Warminster, WIL	in magistrates court	At the Police-court on Friday, before the Rev. W. Hickman, Benjamin Benham and Job Barney, gipsies, were charged with attempting to break and enter the dwelling-house belonging to Sir Harold Pelly, at Maiden Bradley, on the 12th inst. - William Williams, butler, said that shortly after midnight he heard someone trying to force the back door. He went see who it was, and two men ran away. He identified Benham as one of the men. There were marks on the door where an instrument had been used in trying to force it. - There being no evidence to connect Barney with the case he was discharged. - Benham denied the offence, and, on the case coming on again on Saturday, he called evidence to prove that he was in his van all night. - The case was then dismissed.	The Western Gazette , 21 November 1890, 7
