It was, for many years after its erection, paid great attention to, by persons being sent as often as	genealogy.rootsweb. ancestry.com/~cmtilbury/ taylor_family/calne_
					occasion required to keep the enclosed ground clear from weeds, and the ironwork, &c. regularly painted; but it has for some years past been quite neglected; and having seen	wiltshire.html>
					it within these few days, I regretted much its altered appearance; on one side it has the following inscription:
					Under this Tomb lieth the body of Inverto Boswell, Son of Henry and Elizabeth Boswell, who departed this life the 8th day of February 1774, aged 36.
					The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away: blessed be the Name of the Lord.
					There is an abbreviated inscription of the same import at the head of the Tomb, with four lines of poetry underneath, which I was not able to transcribe. Perhaps some of your numerous readers will be able to give intelligence of this Family, and whether they did belong to that singular race of people, which has been on the wane for many years,

A. Boswell, the celebrated king of the gypsies, died on Tuesday aftermoon, the 24th of January, in a lane in the parish of Laneham, at the great age of 99, as he himself stated a few minutes before his death. He was possessed of an ass, nearly as old as himself, a camp, an old fiddle, and three-halfpence; his family consists of grandson (Elijah), two concubines (his wife having died some time previously), and twelve children, sons and daughters. His remains were interred by the gang with due honours, in Laneham church-yard. 1837 26 January Laneham, NTT buried aged 99, Gipsey Original register 1758 31 December Bourn, CAM baptism of Anne John & Tancred ['Damker' in another trancription] Original register transcript 100SWELL, Trianella 1738 July Great Marlow, BKM baptised [no further details] Original register transcript	1756 BOSWEL 1737 1761 1774 1774 BOSWEL c1738 1777 1792	24 April L, Abel 17 September L, Inverto ('Prince 16 March 8 February 10 February L, Ambrose ('King 2 January 15 April	Cleobury Mortimer, SAL e of the Gypsies') Edlesborough, BKM Calne, WIL g of the Gypsies') Pentrich, DBY Foston, LIN	birth baptism of Lawrence died buried birth married baptism of Lizzy	son of Edgerton & Clarinda son of Henry & Elizabeth Virtue & Lavina In the Church-yard of Calne, Wilts, is a Tomb (generally designated by the title of The Gypsy's Tomb), erected to the memory of "Inverto Boswell," who is said to have been a the Prince, or (at least) the Son of "the King of the Gypsies." It is a handsome square Tomb, erected in a corner close to one of the entrances to the Church, enclosed with a dwarf wall and inor nating, with a covering or sort of canopy over it. It was, for many years after its erection, paid great attention to, by persons being sent as often as occasion required to keep the enclosed ground clear from weeds, and the ironwork, &c. regularly painted; but it has for some years past been quite neglected; and having seen it within these few days, I regretted much its altered appearance; on one side it has the following inscription: Under this Tomb lieth the body of Inverto Boswell, Son of Henry and Elizabeth Boswell, who departed this life the 8th day of February 1774, aged 36. The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away: blessed be the Name of the Lord. There is an abbreviated inscription of the same import at the head of the Tomb, with four lines of poetry underneath, which I was not able to transcribe. Perhaps some of your numerous readers will be able to give intelligence of this Family, and whether they did belong to that singular race of people, which has been on the wane for many years, and of whom so few authors have been able to give any accurate account. Saturday laft was married at St. Margaret's Church in this town, PHOENIX! a youth belonging to BOSWELL'S GANG OF GYPSIES, (now hutted in Humberftone-field,) to Miss BOSWELL, daughter of Mr. Bofwell, King of this fraternity. His Gypfean Majefty attended the ceremony: Charlotte Bofwell was bride-maid, and 10 or 12 of the gang likewife attended. They presented the Clergyman who performed the ceremony with 10s. 6d. and to the ringers 15s. with a good dinner and drink in great plenty We underftand that a marriage ceremony amongft this tribe of people is always celebrated with great merriment, and the feafting lasts for 14 days; indeed it is imposfible to conceive a happier set of people than they appeared to be on this occafion. The confummation of the nuptial rights was intended to be in Humberftone-field; where perhaps Phœnix and his tawny Princefs, upon a green fod, with the canopy of heaven their only covering, may tafte as much real felicity as those of a higher order in their beds of down with pillows of thorns Phœnix's trade is that of a tinker - his wife is a dealer in palmeftry The Gypfies have undoubtedly a form of government amongft themfelves, and to their King pay the most implicit obedience; to this fubmiffion we may fairly attribute their apparent happiness; - they have no falfe honour amongft them, and they look upon fhame as the moft grievous punishment in the world	The Bath Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, 28 July 1785, 3
				Phoenix' trade is that of a tinker — his wife is a dealer in palmistry We learn that in a few days, at or near Holwell-mouth, by Melton Mowbray, there will be a general meeting of Gypsies from Leicestershire and the neighbouring counties, to celebrate the nuptials of Phoenix with the King's daughter. The Gypsies have undoubtedly a form of government amongst themselves, and to their King pay the most implicit obedience; to this submission we may fairly attribute their apparent happiness. They have no false honour amongst them, and they look upon shame as the most grievous punishment in the world.	added] The Lincoln Gazetteer, 29 July 1785, page not known [poor transcription]
