1849	18 May	Sheffield, YKS		Devonshire Lane, Sheffield, May 18th 1849. A little girl, the daughter of Brother and Sister Bolyn, Pinstone Street, was seized with the scarlet fever; the mother was afraid and fetched the doctor who prepared a concoction for the child to take, but when the father came home, he put the medicine away and procured some olive oil which was consecrated by Elders Dunn, Burgess and myself, and was then administered by the father and the disease left her that same hour; their little boy was then seized with the same kind of fever; when the doctor came in to see the little girl he saw her playing about with the children and said "Why she is better!" "Yes sir" said the mother "and now the little boy's begun". "Have you given the little girl all the medicine?" "Sir?" "Oh well continue to give the boy the same medicine and he will soon be better". They attended to the ordinance of healing, instituted by our Saviour and the boy was restored the same day; another of the family was then seized and they administered the same medicine (olive oil) which procured an instantaneous cure. "Yours in the true covenant, J. Long, Presiding Elder".	Divine Authenticity of the Book Of Mormon, Liverpool 1850; quoted at Online family tree
