1890	November	near Swindon, WIL	died	Timothy Buckland, the head of a gipsy family well-known in this and the adjacent counties, has recently departed this life, at the age of seventy years. The tribe to which he belonged was at the time encamped in Wiltshire, not far from Swindon, in the parish churchyard of which place his remains were interred, the Rev. E. G. Houghton, curate-in-charge, conducting the service. Many of the relatives and friends of the deceased came from all parts to attend the ceremony, and the encampment presented the crowded and animated appearance of a fair. The vicinity of the churchyard was crowded with people, numbering some thousands, who had been attracted thither to witness the funeral. It is stated that the departed gipsy left above £1,000 to be distributed among his relatives, which shows that a roving life does sometimes prove a profitable occupation. The deceased was one of a party of gypsies who had been at Harlow Bush fair, where a quarrel ensued between him and the wife of one of the party named Stevens, who snatched up a pole, with which he struck him across the head. A regular skirmish followed, in which the deceased was once or twice knocked down. Buckley took to his bed in consequence, and never spoke again. He died on Saturday morning, and as it appeared, from extravasation of blood on the brain. 1863	mid-June	Barking, ESS	John charged with manslaughter of William NICHOLLS	Manslaughter at East Ham – Inquest on the body of William Nicholls, 24, a Gypsy, who was killed in a fight with John Lee, another Gypsy. It appeared that the deceased and Lee belonged to a tribe of Gypsies encamped on waste ground at North Woolwich. A few days ago a quarrel took place between two others of the tribe, named Lazarus Smith and Harran, but who, after fighting together for three hours, they shook hands and became friends again. On returning to the camp, however, the wife of John Lee, and the mother of the deceased Nicholls, took the matter up and fought with each other, when Lee interferred on behalf of his wife, and deceased on behalf of his mother. This fight was the subject of investigations the next day . . . at the Woolwich Police Court, when the case was dismissed. On the 15th inst., the camp broke up, and the whole tribe, numbering upwards of a hundred persons, proceeded towards East Ham. On their route Lee and Nicholls selected a spot to fight; feeling dissatisfied at the magistrate not dealing with the case, and after fighting for an hour and a half, Lee was heard to declare he had had enough and wished to give in. The deceased, however, persisted in continuing the fight, saying he was quite fresh and could "fight through a summer's day." They again fought and in the last round Lee struck the deceased a heavy blow under the left jaw, knocking him down and rendering him insensible. Medical aid was obtained, but the deceased expired half an hour afterwards. A post-mortem examination made on the body proved death to have resulted from an effusion of blood to the brain by a rupture of one of the blood vessels, produced by a blow or fall. The jury, after a short consultation, returned a verdict of manslaughter against John Lee as principal, and Charles Chilcott and Albert Young as aiding and abetting in the fight. The whole of the men are in custody, Lee having been apprehended on Wednesday evening.		The Chelmsford Chronicle , 26 June 1863, page not known; transcribed by AF
1863	15 July	London	John in court	CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT, July 15. OLD COURT. (Before the LORD CHIEF BARON.) John Lee, Charles Chilcote and Albert Young , three good-looking young men of the gipsy tribe, surrendered to take their trial on an indictment charging them with the manslaughter of William Nicholls. The prisoners were also given in charge to the jury on the coroner's inquisition. Mr. Daly appeared for the prosecution, and the prisoners were defended by Mr. Orridge and Mr. Cooper. The evidence adduced on the part of the prosecution declared that two rival tribes of gipsies were located in the vicinity of "West Ham, in the pariah of Ilford, and that a broil had arisen between them, in consequence of a quarrel which arose between the mother of the deceased and the wife of the prisoner Lee, and a fight between the two women was terminated only on the understanding that the dispute should be settled by a conflict between the male relatives of the women, namely, the prisoner Lee and the deceased Nicholls. The contest took place in the Barking marshes, and it was shown to have been a "fair stand-up fight," in which the other prisoners, Chilcote and Young, acted as seconds, though the tribes, male and female, assisted in the general affray. In cross-examination it was elicited that the deceased was a practised pugilist, and that on the occasion of a former fight with another individual, he had been cautioned by the surgeon who had been necessarily called in to attend him, that he must not attempt to fight again, or the result must be fatal. It was further proved that the prisoner was a remarkably quiet and well-disposed young man, and that the deceased had declared that he would fight from sunrise to sunset before he would give up. Mr. Morris, surgeon, of West Ham, proved that he had been called upon to attend the deceased, but did not see him until three hours after his death. There were only slight bruises on the face and forehead, and blood was oozing from the left ear. On a post-mortem examination he had opened the head, chest, and abdomen of the deceased, and he found the viscera to be healthy, but there was a mass of extravasated blood on the brain. This extravasation, which was the immediate cause of death, might have been caused by a blow, a fall, or by excitement. The indications he saw were not sufficient, in his view, to justify the opinion that blows had been the proximate cause of death, and the surgeon would not say whether the death was occasioned by a blow or by excitement. The Lord Chief Baron told the jury he was clearly of opinion that instead of the prisoners being indicted for the manslaughter they ought to have been indicted for a breach of the law in having congregated for an illegal purpose. The Jury, after a moment's consultation, returned a verdict of Not Guilty in favour of all the prisoners, who were at once discharged.		The Evening Herald , 16 July 1863, 7
