1895	22 November	Derby, DBY	Abraham in magistrates court	Abraham Sherriff and Israel Draper, alias Cornelius Colbourne, travelling gipsies, were charged with taking six rabbits from the land of Philip Hanson, at Radbourne, on the 1st of November. A watch had been set on a snare on this land, and at about eight o'clock on the Friday night in question the prisoners were seen to get over a hedge. As soon as they knew that they had been discovered Sherriff threw a stone at one of the watchers and hit him on the leg. They ran away, but turned round, and Sheriff [ sic ] threw two more stones. Draper told him to kill the watcher, but the latter laid hold of Draper. Sheriff [ sic ] then hit him on the head with a stick, knocking him down, and while he lay on the road Draper kicked him violently. They left him there, and he did not see them again until last Sunday. As soon as they saw him they ran away, but were eventually apprehended. - They were each sent to prison for two calendar months' imprisonment with hard labour.						The Derby Mercury , 27 November 1895, 6
