1850	early February	Lower Bentley, WOR	Elizabeth and Maria encamped, with Ambrose BOSWELL	ANOTHER CHILD BORN IN THE ROAD. - Redditch seems to be the goal aimed at by enceinte vagrants and paupers. A few days ago an unmarried woman, named Maria Hodgkinson, who with her mother and nominal husband, of the travelling gipsy tribe, were encamped for the night in a lane at Lower Bentley, was taken in labour, and safely delivered of a living child by her mother. Application was made to Mr. Griffiths, an overseer, who resides about a mile and quarter from where the woman lay, and he, as soon as the case was made known to him, attended and supplied the poor creatures with every necessary [sic] until the arrival of Mr. Eaton, the relieving officer, to whom he had written. Mr. Gilbert, Mr. Eaton, Mr. Carter, and a clergyman, visited the poor woman, and afforded her relief. Through their means, blankets, groceries, and whatever was requisite, have been supplied. There is every prospect of the mother and child doing well.	The Worcestershire Chronicle , 13 February 1850, 6
